Materials for Electrochemical Energy Systems

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to submit your work to this Special Issue on “Materials for electrochemical energy systems”. This Special Issue aims to cover a broad range of subjects, from synthesis to the preparation of different materials, characterization and applications of different materials (e.g., fuel cells, electrolysis, batteries, solar cells, supercapacitors, sensors, electrodialysis, ultra-, nano- and microfiltration). The Special Issue is also open for advanced materials development but not limited to sustainable structural and functional materials for fossil power, solar energy, wind energy, geothermal energy, biofuels, ocean energy and hydropower, as well as advanced energy-harvesting technologies. The micro- and nano-electromechanical systems (devices); new developments in experimental methods, and device performance measurement techniques, will be gladly considered.
