Nondestructive Evaluation and Monitoring of Materials

Message from the Guest Editors

The next world conference, the 20th WCNDT, will be held in Incheon, Korea from 27 to 31 May 2024. With the recent signs of the end of the COVID-19 pandemic, this conference that NDT industry practitioners from around the world have been waiting for is expected to attract 2000 delegates and over 200 exhibitors from all over the world to showcase the best of the latest innovations and technologies in the field. Among those topics, “Nondestructive Evaluation of Materials”, which is the title of this Special Issue, is a key topic that is highly related with all the fields of non-destructive testing and evaluation, and this is the reason we are producing this Special Issue.

We invite you to submit high-quality research as well as technical or review papers to this Special Issue, with an emphasis on innovative new and emerging technologies, including applications for a wide meaning of non-destructive evaluation of materials. If you need any further information about this Special Issue, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Guest Editors

Prof. Dr. Kyung-Young Jhang

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Materials (ISSN 1996-1944) was launched in 2008. The journal covers twenty-five comprehensive topics: biomaterials, energy materials, advanced composites, advanced materials characterization, porous materials, manufacturing processes and systems, advanced nanomaterials and nanotechnology, smart materials, thin films and interfaces, catalytic materials, carbon materials, materials chemistry, materials physics, optics and photonics, corrosion, construction and building materials, materials simulation and design, electronic materials, advanced and functional ceramics and glasses, metals and alloys, soft matter, polymeric materials, quantum materials, mechanics of materials, green materials, general. Materials provides a unique opportunity to contribute high quality articles and to take advantage of its large readership.
