

Special Issue

Corrosion of Nonferrous Metals and Their Alloys

Message from the Guest Editor

The Special Issue “Corrosion of Nonferrous Metals and Their Alloys” will address advances in materials science, processing, characterization, technology development, and corrosion testing of various nonferrous metals and their alloys. Authors are invited to submit original research articles dealing with all types of corrosion processes of any kind of nonferrous metals and their alloys. Moreover, articles describing the lowering of corrosion rate, corrosion kinetics, mechanisms behind the corrosion processes or methods of improving corrosion resistance by implementing nonferrous coatings are welcome as well. The submitted articles can describe all types of corrosion, including wet corrosion, high temperature oxidation, hot corrosion, etc. Dr. Wojciech J. Nowak

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Materials (ISSN 1996-1944) was launched in 2008. The journal covers twenty-five comprehensive topics: biomaterials, energy materials, advanced composites, advanced materials characterization, porous materials, manufacturing processes and systems, advanced nanomaterials and nanotechnology, smart materials, thin films and interfaces, catalytic materials, carbon materials, materials chemistry, materials physics, optics and photonics, corrosion, construction and building materials, materials simulation and design, electronic materials, advanced and functional ceramics and glasses, metals and alloys, soft matter, polymeric materials, quantum materials, mechanics of materials, green materials, general. Materials provides a unique opportunity to contribute high quality articles and to take advantage of its large readership.
