

Special Issue

Dental Biomaterials

Message from the Guest Editor

Recently, significant improvement has been made for the dental materials research such as dental implant, dental adhesive, and zirconia based dental materials. Although special issue of Materials entitled “Dental Materials” was closed, we feel the strong need to provide opportunity to present further dental materials research results and review papers to the materials community. Here, I would like to call for papers for “Dental Biomaterials”. This special issue will facilitate further understanding between the dental materials community and the broader materials community as well as among the dental materials community.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Materials (ISSN 1996-1944) was launched in 2008. The journal covers twenty-five comprehensive topics: biomaterials, energy materials, advanced composites, advanced materials characterization, porous materials, manufacturing processes and systems, advanced nanomaterials and nanotechnology, smart materials, thin films and interfaces, catalytic materials, carbon materials, materials chemistry, materials physics, optics and photonics, corrosion, construction and building materials, materials simulation and design, electronic materials, advanced and functional ceramics and glasses, metals and alloys, soft matter, polymeric materials, quantum materials, mechanics of materials, green materials, general. Materials provides a unique opportunity to contribute high quality articles and to take advantage of its large readership.
