Feature Papers in "Biomaterials" Section

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to announce the Special Issue entitled "Feature Papers in Biomaterials Section". This collection aims to collect state-of-the-art research work or comprehensive review papers in the field of biomaterials, including materials in medicine, medical devices, biosensors, implants, scaffolds for tissue engineering, drug delivery systems, as well as antibacterial and dental materials. All material classes are considered, including metals, ceramics, polymers, and their composites, both synthetic (man-made) materials and those of natural origin. All articles published in this Special Issue are subject to careful editorial selection. We intend for this Issue to be a good forum for disseminating excellent research findings as well as sharing innovative ideas in the field of biomaterials.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Materials (ISSN 1996-1944) was launched in 2008. The journal covers twenty-five comprehensive topics: biomaterials, energy materials, advanced composites, advanced materials characterization, porous materials, manufacturing processes and systems, advanced nanomaterials and nanotechnology, smart materials, thin films and interfaces, catalytic materials, carbon materials, materials chemistry, materials physics, optics and photonics, corrosion, construction and building materials, materials simulation and design, electronic materials, advanced and functional ceramics and glasses, metals and alloys, soft matter, polymeric materials, quantum materials, mechanics of materials, green materials, general. Materials provides a unique opportunity to contribute high quality articles and to take advantage of its large readership.
