Special Issue

Applied Functional Analysis and Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue deals mainly with the theoretical functional analysis approaches to mathematical problems that are related to our real world. All significant areas of applications of functional analysis including new developments in functional analysis and contributions to important problems in and challenges to functional analysis are welcome. We also accept problems arising from linear, nonlinear, conic, stochastic, discrete, and dynamic optimization, variational and convex analysis including high-quality research or review papers in this Special Issue.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The journal Mathematics publishes high-quality, refereed papers that treat both pure and applied mathematics. The journal highlights articles devoted to the mathematical treatment of questions arising in physics, chemistry, biology, statistics, finance, computer science, engineering and sociology, particularly those that stress analytical/algebraic aspects and novel problems and their solutions. One of the missions of the journal is to serve mathematicians and scientists through the prompt publication of significant advances in any branch of science and technology, and to provide a forum for the discussion of new scientific developments.
