Message from the Guest Editor

Mathematical Methods in Artificial Intelligence is about the mathematical foundations of methods and algorithms in AI, and their applications.

The scope is to welcome original foundational and applied papers related to relevant and broad AI problems such as:

- Knowledge representation and reasoning;
- Reasoning under uncertainty or imprecision;
- Commonsense reasoning;
- Planning;
- Learning;
- Natural language processing;
- Multi-agent systems;
- Intelligent robotics;
- Perception/vision.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The journal Mathematics publishes high-quality, refereed papers that treat both pure and applied mathematics. The journal highlights articles devoted to the mathematical treatment of questions arising in physics, chemistry, biology, statistics, finance, computer science, engineering and sociology, particularly those that stress analytical/algebraic aspects and novel problems and their solutions. One of the missions of the journal is to serve mathematicians and scientists through the prompt publication of significant advances in any branch of science and technology, and to provide a forum for the discussion of new scientific developments.
