Cryptologic Mathematics

Message from the Guest Editors

The 2024 Annual Conference of the Technical Committee on Cryptologic Mathematics, Chinese Association for Cryptologic Research (TCCM-CACR) will be held in Yanji, China, July 27–28, 2024, co-organized by Yanbian University and the Chinese Association for Cryptologic Research of China. This Special Issue is for the selected papers that will be presented at the workshop. The aim of the Annual Conference of the TCCM-CACR is to bring together Chinese researchers in cryptologic mathematics. The papers to be presented at the conference reflect a variety of themes involving all mathematical aspects of cryptology and related areas, including but not limiting to boolean algebra, sequences, coding theory, graphs, foundations of cryptography, etc. The authors of the presented papers will be invited to submit full versions of their papers to the MDPI journal Mathematics (this Special Issue). The full submitted versions will be thoroughly refereed. We thank all the authors and all the other participants of the Chinese Cryptography Mathematics Annual workshop in advance, for making it a highly stimulating meeting.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The journal Mathematics publishes high-quality, refereed papers that treat both pure and applied mathematics. The journal highlights articles devoted to the mathematical treatment of questions arising in physics, chemistry, biology, statistics, finance, computer science, engineering and sociology, particularly those that stress analytical/algebraic aspects and novel problems and their solutions. One of the missions of the journal is to serve mathematicians and scientists through the prompt publication of significant advances in any branch of science and technology, and to provide a forum for the discussion of new scientific developments.
