Special Issue

Multivariate Statistics: Theory and Its Applications

Message from the Guest Editor

This special issue invites papers on data analysis topics with potential application in the life and social sciences. We solicit papers that incorporate new ideas, results, innovative and modern methodologies and algorithms with application to real-life problems. We also encourage the submission of papers that include modules and computational packages that allow the reproduction and implementation of the results. Research papers, review articles and short communications are invited. Topics of interest include but are not limited to the following:

- Multivariate Statistical Methods for Data Analysis
- Data Mining;
- Text Mining;
- Sentiment Analysis;
- Learning Associaton Rules;
- Computational statistics;
- High dimensional statistics with a view toward Applications.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The journal Mathematics publishes high-quality, refereed papers that treat both pure and applied mathematics. The journal highlights articles devoted to the mathematical treatment of questions arising in physics, chemistry, biology, statistics, finance, computer science, engineering and sociology, particularly those that stress analytical/algebraic aspects and novel problems and their solutions. One of the missions of the journal is to serve mathematicians and scientists through the prompt publication of significant advances in any branch of science and technology, and to provide a forum for the discussion of new scientific developments.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), RePEc, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Mathematics) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Mathematics)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 18.4 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
