Special Issue

Evaluation, Management, and Outcomes in Perioperative Medicine

Message from the Guest Editors

We are particularly interested in manuscripts presenting novel findings or approaches in various areas, such as the following:

- Perioperative risk stratification and optimization;
- Implementation and efficacy of prehabilitation programs;
- Biomarkers and predictive models for surgical outcomes;
- Personalized anesthesia and intraoperative management;
- Postoperative complications: prevention, detection, and management;
- Role of artificial intelligence and machine learning in perioperative care;
- Functional recovery and quality of life post-surgery;
- Innovations in patient blood management, nutritional support, and frailty assessment.

We invite original research articles, systematic reviews, narrative reviews, meta-analyses, and clinical trials that contribute to the advancement of perioperative medicine. Multidisciplinary studies, translational research, and papers highlighting the real-world implementation of perioperative strategies are especially welcome. Submissions should provide robust methodology, clinically relevant insights, and practical implications for healthcare professionals involved in perioperative care.
