

Special Issue

Advances in Sports Rehabilitation and Injury Prevention

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to announce a Special Issue on "Advances in Sports Rehabilitation and Injury Prevention." Sports participation, while beneficial to health, often comes with the risk of injuries. This Special Issue aims to explore the latest advancements in preventing, managing, and rehabilitating sports injuries, providing a platform for the dissemination of cutting-edge research and innovative practices. We invite submissions that address various aspects of sports injury prevention and rehabilitation, including but not limited to the following:

- Innovative injury-prevention strategies and their implementation in real-world settings.
- Advanced rehabilitation techniques tailored to specific sports and injuries.
- Use of technology and personalized approaches in injury assessment and recovery.
- Interdisciplinary methods combining manual therapy, nutrition, posture management, and psychological support
