Novel Diagnostic and Therapeutic Strategies in Cardiovascular Medicine

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to highlight recent advances in diagnostic and therapeutic strategies across the cardiovascular continuum. We seek to gather original and review articles that explore both foundational research and clinical applications in cardiovascular medicine. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Novel biomarkers and omics technologies in cardiovascular diagnosis;
- Advanced imaging techniques (e.g., cardiac MRI, CT, 3D echocardiography);
- Risk scores and predictive algorithms for ischemic heart disease and arrhythmias;
- Interventional and pharmacological therapy innovations;
- Artificial intelligence and digital health in cardiac diagnostics and remote monitoring.

We invite contributions in the form of the following:

- Original clinical or translational research articles;
- Systematic reviews and meta-analyses;
- Narrative reviews or expert perspectives.

Submissions from multidisciplinary teams, including cardiology, radiology, biomedical engineering, and digital health experts, are especially encouraged.
