Women's Special Issue Series: Medicine

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to announce a new Special Issue for Medicina—“Women's Special Issue Series: Medicine”—to celebrate and highlight the international achievements of female researchers in the fields of medicine and clinical science. For this Special Issue, we are seeking the submission of original research articles and comprehensive review papers from, but not limited to, cardiology, cardiovascular and clinical diabetes, dental and oral health and women's health, plus any other medicine-related subjects. The papers in this Special Issue will be published via our open access platform after a thorough peer review. The purpose of our Special Issue is to promote and celebrate the latest achievements of women in medicine and clinical science. While we encourage contributions where the lead/senior author is female, we welcome submissions from all authors, irrespective of their gender identity. We look forward to receiving your excellent work.
