Interdisciplinary Insights into Alzheimer's Disease

Message from the Guest Editors

As the guest editor of the upcoming Special Issue titled “Interdisciplinary Insights into Alzheimer’s Disease,” I am excited to invite submissions that explore the multifaceted aspects of Alzheimer’s Disease from a broad range of disciplinary perspectives. This Special Issue aims to integrate research findings from neuroscience, psychology, genetics, pharmacology, and social sciences to foster a deeper understanding of the pathophysiology, diagnosis, and management of Alzheimer’s Disease. By bringing together diverse research methodologies and viewpoints, we hope to highlight innovative approaches, enhance diagnostic techniques, and develop more effective therapeutic strategies. Contributions may include, but are not limited to, the exploration of biomarkers, neuroimaging advancements, genetic predispositions, and the socio-economic impacts of Alzheimer’s Disease. This Special Issue seeks to provide a platform for researchers to disseminate cutting-edge research that could potentially revolutionize the approach to Alzheimer’s Disease and improve patient outcomes.
