Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue focuses on the further investigation, development, and modernization of acupuncture in basic research settings, as well as in clinical applications.

We welcome papers reporting latest evidence-based results of high-tech acupuncture research, and those exploring acupuncture in general. Studies concerning modern technology in acupuncture research are especially welcome. Manuscripts should deal with, but are not limited to, the keywords listed below.

- Modernization of acupuncture
- basic research
- traditional and modern needle acupuncture
- laser acupuncture
- electroacupuncture
- ear acupuncture
- animal experimental studies in acupuncture
- evidence-based complementary medicine
- acupuncture in clinical application and practice

Medicines (ISSN 2305-6320) is an international, peer-reviewed, and open-access journal aimed at disseminating cutting-edge research in the field of drug discovery and clinical application. It publishes original research papers, research communications, letters, and systematic reviews. The contents of the papers handled are manufacture of new drugs, exploration of drug-delivery systems, therapeutic effect, action mechanism, and their modulation by intrinsic and extrinsic factors. We look forward to handling your contributions in the very near future.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within PubMed, PMC, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Rapid Publication: manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 27.7 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 7.2 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
