Metallic Materials and Manufacturing

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue covers all aspects of metals from its materials engineering and technology, as well as their manufacturing. Any type of article aligned with the journal (original research, case study, technical report, short communication, and reviews), within the scope of materials and manufacturing of metals is welcome for this Special Issue. Additionally included are selected papers from the 3rd International Materials, Industrial, and Manufacturing Engineering Conference (MIMEC2017) in Miri, Malaysia (www.mimec.me) and the 2nd International Conference on Materials and Manufacturing Engineering and Technology (CoMMET 2018) in Bali, Indonesia (www.commet.me). Please consider contributing to this Special Issue. Thank you and wishing you all the best. Dr. Denni Kurniawan

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Metallic materials play a vital role in the economic life of modern societies; contributions are sought on fresh developments that enhance our understanding of the fundamental aspects related to the relationships between processing, properties and microstructure – disciplines in the metallurgical field ranging from processing, mechanical behavior, phase transitions and microstructural evolution, nanostructures, as well as unique metallic properties – inspire general and scholarly interest among the scientific community.
