Corrosion without Limit: From Past to Future

Message from the Guest Editor

We are pleased to inform you that Metals is now accepting submissions, and the Editorial Board would like to encourage you to submit your research results to this Special Issue titled “Corrosion without Limits: From Past to Future”. This issue is dedicated to and aimed at service behavior of all types of materials, and this includes areas such as materials selection, passivity, ability to prevent failures, biomedical corrosion, mechanism and methods of corrosion control, etc. Your contribution is of great importance for us, and it will help the journal to maintain its high standards.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Metallic materials play a vital role in the economic life of modern societies; contributions are sought on fresh developments that enhance our understanding of the fundamental aspects related to the relationships between processing, properties and microstructure – disciplines in the metallurgical field ranging from processing, mechanical behavior, phase transitions and microstructural evolution, nanostructures, as well as unique metallic properties – inspire general and scholarly interest among the scientific community.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Inspec, Ei Compendex, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Metallurgy and Metallurgical Engineering) /
CiteScore - Q1 (Metals and Alloys)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 18 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
