

Special Issue

IMCO 2019

Message from the Guest Editors

Interplay of light with solid and liquid media in micro-/nanoscale is a multidisciplinary research and is making rapid progress in different research fields. This special issue follows up the 9th International Multidisciplinary Conference on Optofluidics (IMCO 2019, <http://imco2019.org>, 14–17 June 2019), and aims to publish short communications, full articles and topical reviews to update the multidisciplinary research frontiers of micro/nano-optics, nanophotonics, microfluidics and their devices/systems and applications. Other latest research results in the related fields such as coupled optofluidic phenomena, materials, fabrication, designs, modeling are also welcomed.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

You are invited to contribute research articles or comprehensive reviews for consideration and publication in Micromachines (ISSN 2072-666X). Micromachines is published in the open access format. Research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited free access to the content as soon as it is published. As an open access journal, Micromachines is supported by the authors or their institutes by payment of article processing charges (APC) for accepted papers. We are pleased to welcome you as our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Ei Compendex, dblp, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Instruments and Instrumentation) / CiteScore - Q1 (Mechanical Engineering)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 17.2 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 1.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
