State-of-the-Art Plant Microbe Interactions in South Korea (2025, 2026)

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue is designed to offer a comprehensive overview of the latest advancements in Plant Microbe Interactions within the South Korea. We warmly invite South Korean scholars from related fields to submit papers that highlight recent developments in this area. Contributions may include original research articles and comprehensive reviews. We also encourage submissions from relevant experts and colleagues, ensuring a diverse and cutting-edge collection of work. This Special Issue aims to showcase the innovative research being conducted in South Korea and to provide a platform for further advancements in the field of Plant Microbe Interactions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

"Microorganism" merges the idea of the very small with the idea of the evolving reproducing organism is a unifying principle for the discipline of microbiology. Our journal recognizes the broadly diverse yet connected nature of microorganisms and provides an advanced publishing forum for original articles from scientists involved in high-quality basic and applied research on any prokaryotic or eukaryotic microorganism, and for research on the ecology, genomics and evolution of microbial communities as well as that exploring cultured microorganisms in the laboratory.
