

Special Issue

Foodborne and Waterborne Pathogens

Message from the Guest Editors

We welcome original research articles, review articles, opinion pieces, commentaries, and different perspectives. Papers that describe only small incremental work will not be considered for peer review and publication. Suggested topic areas include the following:

- Diagnosis and novel detection methods;
- Epidemiology;
- Risk assessment and management;
- Host–pathogen interaction;
- Virulence factors;
- Immune response;
- Antimicrobial resistance;
- Reservoirs of resistance and antimicrobial genes;
- One Health approach;
- Novel therapies for the control of infectious pathogens;
- Emerging zoonotic diseases (viruses, bacteria, and parasites) in animals and their impact on human health;
- Approaches to reduce the use of antibiotics in farm animals.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

"Microorganism" merges the idea of the very small with the idea of the evolving reproducing organism is a unifying principle for the discipline of microbiology. Our journal recognizes the broadly diverse yet connected nature of microorganisms and provides an advanced publishing forum for original articles from scientists involved in high-quality basic and applied research on any prokaryotic or eukaryotic microorganism, and for research on the ecology, genomics and evolution of microbial communities as well as that exploring cultured microorganisms in the laboratory.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, PubAg, CAPlus / SciFinder, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Microbiology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Microbiology (medical))

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 15.2 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.9 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
