Feature Papers in Mineral Geochemistry and Geochronology 2019

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue, "Feature Papers in Mineral Geochemistry and Geochronology 2019", will cover topics of broad interest to the international geoscience community. The Special Issue will contain invitation-only original research and review articles from prominent researchers in the field that cover recent advances in microanalytical techniques, including geochronology and isotope geochemistry, compositional data for natural minerals of all types, and experimental work on their synthetic analogues, as well as the application of mineral chemistry to issues such as the petrogenesis of igneous rocks or exploration for mineral deposits.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Minerals welcomes submissions that report basic and applied research in mineralogy. Research areas of traditional interest are mineral deposits, mining, mineral processing and environmental mineralogy. The journal footprint also includes novel uses of elemental and isotopic analyses of minerals for petrology, geochronology and thermochronology, thermobarometry, ore genesis and sedimentary provenance. Contributions are encouraged in emerging research areas such as applications of quantitative mineralogy to the oil and gas, manufacturing, forensic science, climate change, geohazard and health sectors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), GeoRef, CaPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Mining and Mineral Processing) / CiteScore - Q1 (Geology)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 18.2 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
