Message from the Guest Editor

In just a few years, MDPI became one of the world's leading publishing firms for scientific research. To get closer to British scientific communities and engage more with the world's top scientists who work in UK universities, MDPI has decided to establish a new office in London. To mark this important step, Molecules, as the oldest journal of the MDPI family, is dedicating this Special Issue to publishing cutting-edge research from British scientists. Original research articles, reviews, short communications, or opinions within the scope of Molecules from researchers based in any UK university are welcome.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.
