

Special Issue

Bioactive Phytochemicals as Antioxidant Agents

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue is dedicated to exploring the diversity, functionality, and relevance of bioactive phytochemicals as antioxidant agents. Due to the high level of interest in this topic, we encourage contributions that can reflect the breadth of current research in this field, ranging from the discovery of new phytochemical sources to insights into their biological activities, mechanisms of action, and practical applications. Together, they underscore the importance of interdisciplinary approaches in advancing our understanding of how natural antioxidants can be harnessed to promote health, improve food quality, and inspire innovative therapeutic strategies.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to molecular chemistry, now in its 30th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts, and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on all major fields of molecular chemistry and multidisciplinary topics bridging chemistry with biology, physics, and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting-edge fields in all of these areas.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 15.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
