30th Anniversary of Molecules: Recent Advances in Photochemistry

Message from the Guest Editors

Molecules has reached a remarkable milestone this year by publishing its 30th volume, and to celebrate this special occasion we have launched a Special Issue devoted to Photochemistry entitled “30th Anniversary of Molecules: Recent Advances in Photochemistry”. On behalf of the members of the Editorial Board created for the occasion, I would like to invite all groups involved in the field to submit their cutting-edge research. This Special Issue will consist of comprehensive reviews and original research articles featuring important and recent developments in all areas of photochemistry. We sincerely hope that your paper can be included in this Special Issue to commemorate the 30th Anniversary of Molecules.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to molecular chemistry, now in its 30th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts, and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on all major fields of molecular chemistry and multidisciplinary topics bridging chemistry with biology, physics, and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting-edge fields in all of these areas.
