

Special Issue

Molecules for Biotechnologies II

Message from the Guest Editors

In this extraordinary period, in which each of us has been doing our best to overcome the difficulties of the moment, and considering the attention that the biotechnology field has been receiving, we would like to announce a new Special Issue of Molecules entitled “Molecules for Biotechnologies II”. This Special Issue welcomes original papers and comprehensive reviews focused on, but not limited to, the design, synthesis, and biochemical characterization of molecules involved in biotechnological applications, such as the development of novel approaches for molecular biosensing in diagnostics and the obtainment of new biomaterials and drug delivery systems. Please refer to the list of keywords for further details.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to molecular chemistry, now in its 29th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts, and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on all major fields of molecular chemistry and multidisciplinary topics bridging chemistry with biology, physics, and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting-edge fields in all of these areas.
