Inorganic Chemistry in Asia, 2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editor

Dear colleagues, We are pleased to announce the second edition of the Special Issue "Inorganic Chemistry in Asia" of Molecules. Following the success of the first edition, this Special Issue will also present a high-quality collection of work from scientists in Asian countries, as well as contributions from other countries concerning the advances in inorganic chemistry in Asia (both original research articles and comprehensive review papers are welcome). This Special Issue will discuss new knowledge or cutting-edge developments in the broadly defined inorganic chemistry research field, including coordination chemistry, organometallic chemistry, solid-state chemistry, bioinorganic chemistry, nuclear- and radiochemistry, analytical chemistry, etc. This Special Issue is a forum for the exchange of research findings and innovative ideas in the field.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.
