New Strategies to Functional Materials and Polymers - Applied Chemistry in USA

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue on “New Strategies to Functional Materials and Polymers—Applied Chemistry in the USA” of the journal Molecules focuses on a variety of chemical fields, inviting papers on various functional materials, including metal compounds, inorganic and organic compounds, polymers, proteins, etc., including both basic research and applications. This topical collection aims to encourage scholars, professors, researchers, and administrators from the USA to use state-of-the-art technologies and concepts to significantly improve the field of applied chemistry. We kindly invite and encourage all research groups covering various applied chemistry areas to make contributions to this Special Issue.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
