Mechanochemistry

Message from the Guest Editors

Mechanochemistry has its roots in chemistry and mechanical engineering. Since a long time it has found applications in the fields of inorganic chemistry, polymer science, etc. More recently, mechanochemistry has also blossomed in organic chemistry being recognized as "clean" and "green" method allowing to perform reactions in the absence of solvents which are often harmful to the environment. Thus overall, "mechanochemistry" has increasingly become important in present-day society. Thus, works concerning any aspect of "mechanochemistry" are welcome in this Special Issue.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to molecular chemistry, now in its 29th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts, and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on all major fields of molecular chemistry and multidisciplinary topics bridging chemistry with biology, physics, and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting-edge fields in all of these areas.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
