Theme Issue Honoring Professor Philippe Jeandet's 60th Birthday: Bioactivity and Chemical Diversity of Natural Compounds

Message from the Guest Editors

In 2020, Dr. Philippe Jeandet, Professor of Food Chemistry at the Faculty of Sciences of the University of Reims, has his 60th birthday. In recognition of his outstanding lifetime scientific contribution, we have arranged a Special Issue to which you are invited to submit a manuscript. In this Special Issue, we welcome experts to contribute their original articles exploring the biological activity and structural diversity of chemical entities derived from mother nature. Review articles, particularly those dealing with the themes mentioned above, are also welcome. You are welcome to visit the website and submit your paper here. Any questions please feel free to contact Larry Li (larry.li@mdpi.com), the managing editor of the special issue. We look forward to receiving your contribution.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.

Editor-in-Chief
