

Special Issue

Advances in Selenium Catalysts and Antioxidants—2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editors

Selenium (Se) has recently become an important element in a diverse range of research fields, such as biology, biomimetic chemistry, medicinal chemistry, organic synthesis, material science, etc., owing to its characteristic redox behaviors, which are similar but discretely different from those of sister chalcogen elements such as sulfur (S) and tellurium (Te). In this special issue of Molecules, we invite original research articles and reviews on related topics, focusing on the latest advances in selenium catalysts and antioxidants

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to molecular chemistry, now in its 30th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts, and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on all major fields of molecular chemistry and multidisciplinary topics bridging chemistry with biology, physics, and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting-edge fields in all of these areas.

Editor-in-Chief

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarInLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 15.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
