Special Issue

Secondary Metabolites from Plant- or Animal-Associated Endophytic Fungus

Message from the Guest Editor

In view of the medicinal potential of endophytes, the principal goals of this Special Issue focus on all aspects of chemical and biochemical research, including the isolation and structural elucidation of novel bioactive secondary metabolites from plant- and animal-associated endophytes, biosynthesis and microbiological transformations, and other related research. You are welcome to visit the Website. Look forward to receiving the Abstract and Manuscript from your group.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.

Editor-in-Chief
