Special Issue

Advanced Fluorescent Probes for Bioimaging and Environmental Sensing

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue will include contributions by experts in the field who take part in the synthesis of novel probe systems. We will also focus on a range of analytes. Discussions must include both the photophysical properties and the chemical mechanism at play. Preference will be given to authors with track records of publishing articles on chemosensing, but we also welcome younger authors' contributions. A range of research directions are expected; review articles are welcome but writing must be unaided by Al assistance.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to molecular chemistry, now in its 29th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts, and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on all major fields of molecular chemistry and multidisciplinary topics bridging chemistry with biology, physics, and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting-edge fields in all of these areas.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
