Advances in Main Group Chemistry

Message from the Guest Editor

As you know, the International Conference on Inorganic Ring Systems (IRIS) is a premiere international conference with a focus on main group chemistry of all types (with no "rings" required). The host city and country for the meeting changes and the 17th IRIS conference is set in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada, in July 2024. This Special Issue of Molecules is intended to highlight some of the exciting current work in main group chemistry of the kind that will be presented and discussed at the IRIS-17 conference. Submissions of all kinds are welcome.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.

Editor-in-Chief

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
