

Special Issue

Chitosan, Chitosan Derivatives and Their Applications

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue of Molecules is dedicated to recent advances in the research of chitin, chitosan, and their derivatives and focuses on highlighting recent interesting investigations conducted in leading laboratories around the world. Our journal is an attractive open-access publishing platform for molecular chemistry research data. The field of chitin/chitosan systems is still a developing scientific area but a very promising one for many practical applications. This Special Issue will be focused on all aspects of production, modification, enzymology and the application of chitin/chitosan and its many derivatives, as well as chitin/chitosan-based systems.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
