Special Issue of NEGATIVE Data in Chemistry

Message from the Guest Editor

In this Special Issue, I would like to expand the scope to include “failure” information or examples of similar studies on chirality. Focused articles should be related to not only the chirality of organic compounds, metal complexes, and biomolecules but also the resulting chirality of hybrid materials, supramolecular structures, or crystallography, photochemistry, and spectroscopy associated with the chirality of these materials.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.
