Trends in Bioactive Natural Products Research: Isolation, Structural Elucidation and Biological Assays

Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleague, Contributions for this Special Issue "Trends in Bioactive Natural Products Research: Isolation, Structural Elucidation, and Biological Assays", both in the form of original research and review articles, may cover all aspects of natural products chemistry, including the extraction of small molecules, the purification and structural characterization of new compounds, as well as the in vitro and in vivo evaluation of biological activities of new isolated compounds and their analogues or known metabolites. You are welcome to visit the website and submit your tentative abstract here. Any questions about the special issue, please contact the managing editor Larry Li (larry.li@mdpi.com). We look forward to receiving your contribution.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.

Editor-in-Chief
