

Special Issue

Natural Products for Cosmetic Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

Natural products provide an interesting and largely unexplored source for the development of potential new cosmetic ingredients. Accordingly, this Special Issue on “Natural Products for Cosmetic Applications” is aimed at presenting novel data on natural products and single compounds with skin protection and improvement activities, at either the enzymatic or the cellular level, through original papers and short communications, but also to provide an overview of the current knowledge in this field through reviews. We kindly invite you to contribute an excellent paper to the SI. You are welcome to visit the website and submit your paper here. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Cecilia Li (cecilia.li@mdpi.com), the managing editor from Molecules editorial office.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.
