

Special Issue

Analysis of Residues in Food and Environment

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue highlights recent developments in the field of residue analysis in food and environment.

Welcome submissions should include well validated analytical methods with demonstrated improvements over existing methods and/or application to novel compounds. Submissions will be accepted across fields including screening methods (e.g., immunochemical assays), sensors, chromatographic methods, molecular spectroscopy and Mass Spectrometry. Manuscripts reporting the fate of residues in food, environment, e.g. persistency, metabolic studies and processing will also be welcomed. In order to give an update of recent progresses in technique improvements and new applications, you are kindly invited to submit your original articles or reviews of your work.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to molecular chemistry, now in its 30th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts, and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on all major fields of molecular chemistry and multidisciplinary topics bridging chemistry with biology, physics, and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting-edge fields in all of these areas.
