Sample Preparation-Quo Vadis: Current Status of Sample Preparation Approaches-2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editors

Sample preparation is, and will always be, the most important step in chemical analysis. Analytical chemists are invited to share their experience in the field and report on the recent advances in sample preparation approaches.

- sample preparation
- sample pretreatment
- extraction techniques
- microextraction techniques
- green analytical chemistry
- miniaturization
- automated techniques

You are welcome to visit the website and submit the abstract and full paper. Please feel free to contact Larry Li (larry.li@mdpi.com), the managing editor, if you have any questions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Thomas J. Schmidt

Institute of Pharmaceutical Biology and Phytochemistry, University of Münster, Corrensstrasse 48, D-48149 Münster, Germany

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Organic Chemistry)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 16.1 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 2.6 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
