

Special Issue

Innovations and Challenges in Cardiovascular Nursing

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue seeks to explore the latest advancements and challenges in cardiovascular nursing. We invite researchers, clinicians, and educators to contribute original research articles, reviews, and meta-analyses that reflect the current trends and future directions in this specialized area. The scope of this Special Issue includes, but is not limited to, innovations in acute and chronic cardiovascular care, the management of heart failure, advances in arrhythmia treatments, and the role of nursing in preventing and responding to sudden cardiac events. We aim to create a platform that will foster the dissemination of knowledge and provide a deeper understanding of the complex and critical role that cardiovascular nurses play in modern healthcare. By addressing both innovative techniques and ongoing challenges, this Special Issue will serve as a guide for future advancements in cardiovascular care. We look forward to receiving your contributions, which will shape the future of cardiovascular nursing and enhance the quality of care provided to patients with cardiovascular disease.
