Neonatal Nutrition for Inflammatory Disorders and Necrotizing Enterocolitis

Message from the Guest Editor

Nutrients is planning a Special Issue focusing on neonatal nutritional advances for inflammatory disorders such as necrotizing enterocolitis (NEC). Nutrition can impact the development of diseases that afflict infants. This Special Issue aims to bring together the latest research on the role of nutrition in preventing or impacting neonatal disorders. Specifically, this Special Issue will focus on the role of breast milk or donor breast milk and the various components in milk that have been demonstrated to protect against NEC and other inflammatory diseases. In addition, the impacts of nutrition on the microbiome and the microbial impact on diseases affecting the neonate will be included. This issue seeks to provide a comprehensive composite of the advances in nutritional strategies that can modulate or prevent neonatal intestinal disorders.
