Digitalization Supporting Management of Type 2 Diabetes and Other Chronic Diseases

Message from the Guest Editor

You are warmly invited if you are conducting research in this field, if you are in the process of licensing digital products, or if you are involved in developing standard recommendations and guidelines in the field to publish your results and experiences in this Special Issue. We would like to make this a landmark issue for everyone working in the field of digitalization in chronic disease management, as well as the new field on the evaluation of digital tools for use in new and innovative research protocols. I am very keen to read your manuscript and to publish together with you this Special Issue on a very innovative and important topic in medical care.
