ICOPA 2022 Free Living Amoebae Symposia Special Issue

Message from the Guest Editors

In the 2022 edition of ICOPA, a Free Living Amoebae symposia will be held. This is the perfect opportunity for experts on the field worldwide to interact. As part of further interactions and due to the emerging number of infections due to Free Living Amoebae worldwide, this special issue of pathogens invites potential authors to contribute. Original research studies focused on all aspects of FLA are welcome.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The worldwide impact of infectious disease is incalculable. The consequences for human health in terms of morbidity and mortality are obvious and vast but, when infections of animals and plants are also taken into account, it is hard to imagine any other disease that has such a significant impact on our lives—on healthcare systems, on agriculture and on world economics.

Pathogens is proud to continue to serve the international community by publishing high quality studies that further our understanding of infection and have meaningful consequences for disease intervention.
