Special Issue

Emerging Infectious Diseases

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue welcomes contributions (original research articles, reviews, short communications) encompassing emerging animal and zoonotic diseases in any of the abovementioned areas, and it is anticipated to spotlight current developments and trends in EID investigations, surveillance, risk status, and development of medical countermeasures critical to mitigating the impact on global health and food security.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The worldwide impact of infectious disease is incalculable. The consequences for human health in terms of morbidity and mortality are obvious and vast but, when infections of animals and plants are also taken into account, it is hard to imagine any other disease that has such a significant impact on our lives—on healthcare systems, on agriculture and on world economics. Pathogens is proud to continue to serve the international community by publishing high quality studies that further our understanding of infection and have meaningful consequences for disease intervention.
