Pharmacotherapy of Prostate Cancer

Message from the Guest Editor

Prostate cancer has always represented a major challenge worldwide, with key issues including resistance to androgen receptor pathway inhibitors (ARPIs), neuroendocrine progression, and limited durable responses to immunotherapy. This Special Issue will highlight novel therapeutic strategies reshaping this field. We invite you to share your latest research results in this field, including, but not limited to, the following areas:

- Original research on preclinical/clinical drug development;
- Phase I-III trial results;
- Reviews on emerging targets (e.g., ferroptosis inducers, antibody–drug conjugates);
- Prostate cancer biomarkers.

We hope that this Special Issue will improve our understanding of this malignant disease and encourage discussion among frontline physicians, to improve treatment outcomes for prostate cancer patients.
