Recent Advances on Acoustic, Ultrasonic, and Magnetic Drug Delivery

Message from the Guest Editors

Acoustic and magnetic drug delivery techniques are two novel active drug delivery approaches. The use of acoustics in biomedical practices has been expanded from diagnostic applications to non-invasive drug delivery. The use of acoustics in drug delivery procedures can be divided into two categories: ultrasonic-enhanced drug delivery (known as high-intensity focused ultrasound (HIFU)) and low-frequency acoustic drug delivery (ADD). The journal Pharmaceuticals invites both reviews and original articles that shed light on the challenges and opportunities of using the magnetic field, acoustic wave, and pulsating flow in drug delivery enhancement as well as in the diagnosis of various diseases. Topics include but are not limited to: Targeted Drug delivery, Acoustic Drug Delivery, Magnetic drug targeting, Pulsating Flow, high-intensity focused ultrasound (HIFU), Acoustic Rhinometry, etc.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Because of your expertise in the field of drug sciences, I kindly invite you to consider publishing your current work, in the form of a research article or a review, in the open access electronic journal Pharmaceuticals.

Pharmaceuticals is characterized by an active editorial board and a dynamic editorial staff. Manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a final decision is provided to authors within 4–6 weeks after submission. Papers are published on the web immediately after acceptance. For details on the submission process or any other matter, please do not hesitate to contact us.

We hope to handle your contribution to Pharmaceuticals soon.
