Lung Injury and Repair

Message from the Guest Editor

We are pleased to announce the launch of the ‘Lung Injury and Repair’ Special Issue of Pharmaceuticals. This Special Issue will emphasize the most recent advances in the field of pulmonary biology and therapeutics, to provide the research and medical community with the most up-to-date information in the corresponding fields. We welcome the submission of manuscripts (research articles, reviews) investigating the etiologies of lung disease, as well as the development of medical countermeasures against lung injury (direct and indirect). Such injuries include (but are not limited to) the following: acute lung injury, acute respiratory distress syndrome, aspiration, sepsis, trauma, SARS-CoV-2-inflicted ARDS, pneumonia, fibrosis, lung endothelial, and epithelial cell injury. The further delineation of the signaling network that maintains states of lung health and disease will propel the discovery of highly targeted and efficacious approaches against the ferocious outcomes of respiratory dysfunction, including COVID-19.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Because of your expertise in the field of drug sciences, I kindly invite you to consider publishing your current work, in the form of a research article or a review, in the open access electronic journal Pharmaceuticals. Pharmaceuticals is characterized by an active editorial board and a dynamic editorial staff. Manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a final decision is provided to authors within 4–6 weeks after submission. Papers are published on the web immediately after acceptance. For details on the submission process or any other matter, please do not hesitate to contact us. We hope to handle your contribution to Pharmaceuticals soon.
