Special Issue

Hyaluronic Acid-Based Drug Delivery Systems

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to highlight recent advances in hyaluronic acid-based drug delivery systems, covering a wide range of applications from cancer therapy to regenerative medicine. We seek contributions exploring the design, synthesis, and functionalization of HA-based nanoparticles, micelles, hydrogels, and conjugates for the controlled release of chemotherapeutics, biologics, and gene therapies. Additionally, studies on the physicochemical characterization, stability, and in vivo performance of HA-based formulations will be of particular interest.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Pharmaceutics (ISSN 1999-4923) is an online open access journal on the science and technology of pharmaceutics and biopharmaceutics. The scientific community, the wider community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as a paper is published; this open access to your research ensures your findings are shared with the widest possible audience. Please consider publishing your impressive work in this high quality journal. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Pharmacology and Pharmacy) / CiteScore - Q1 (Pharmaceutical Science)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 14.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.3 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
