Novel Micro/Nanomaterials Based Drug Delivery Systems for Theranostic Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite and welcome submissions to our upcoming Special Issue, titled "Novel Micro/Nanomaterial Based Drug Delivery Systems for Theranostic Applications". This Special Issue aims to explore cutting-edge developments in the field of micro- and nanomaterials, particularly focusing on their applications in drug delivery systems for theranostics. The convergence of nanotechnology and medicine has opened up new frontiers in healthcare, enabling the development of highly efficient drug delivery systems with the ability to simultaneously diagnose and treat diseases. The use of micro- and nanomaterials in drug delivery not only enhances the effectiveness of therapeutic agents but also minimizes side effects, thereby revolutionizing the approach to disease management. This research area holds significant promise for advancing personalized medicine, developing targeted therapies, and improving the real-time monitoring of treatment responses, making it a vital field of study in modern medical science.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Pharmaceutics (ISSN 1999-4923) is an online open access journal on the science and technology of pharmaceuticals and biopharmaceuticals. The scientific community, the wider community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as a paper is published; this open access to your research ensures your findings are shared with the widest possible audience. Please consider publishing your impressive work in this high quality journal. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Pharmacology and Pharmacy) / CiteScore - Q1
(Pharmaceutical Science)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 14.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.3 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2025).
