Bioinspired Design in Drug Delivery

Message from the Guest Editors

The increasing demand of smart carriers with superior functionalities and release profiles is leading to the development of bioinspired drug delivery systems (DDS). Different functional biopolymers can be successfully used to encapsulate cells and/or to administer drugs or biomolecules through highly programmable time and space delivery routes. Moreover, the addition of biological recognition sites further allows more efficiently guide cellular activities and synchronizing responses to environmental stimulation, in order to design bioinspired DDS for in vivo targeting.

We would encourage scientists from multidisciplinary areas to contribute original and review articles regarding the recent advances in materials science and nanotechnology to design bioinspired drug delivery systems.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Pharmaceutics (ISSN 1999-4923) is an online open access journal on the science and technology of pharmaceuticals and biopharmaceuticals. The scientific community, the wider community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as a paper is published; this open access to your research ensures your findings are shared with the widest possible audience. Please consider publishing your impressive work in this high quality journal. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPIus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Pharmacology and Pharmacy) / CiteScore - Q1 (Pharmaceutical Science)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 15.7 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.5 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the second half of 2025).
